Discover the charm of sustainable rural living with this 10-acre mini farm, just south of Empress, Alberta. Once a beloved petting zoo, this unique property offers endless possibilities for those looking to embrace homesteading, small-scale farming, or a peaceful retreat in the heart of Alberta's prairie landscape. With a 1979 mobile home and a 500 sq. ft. bunkhouse, both serviced with electricity, gas, and village water, this property provides the foundation to create your own self-sufficient haven. The septic system is in place for both homes but may require some maintenance as the property has been vacant for a few years.

A 16x28 garage with a cement floor offers secure parking or workshop space, while a 14x12 tin-roof storage shed adds even more flexibility. The 120x180 arena is an incredible asset for horse enthusiasts, livestock operations, or potential outdoor recreation.

village itself provides essential amenities, including a gift shop, hairdresser, local diner, gas station, and mechanic. The area also offers recreational opportunities, with a driving range, basketball and tennis courts, and regular visits from a local Hutterite Colony selling fresh produce and homemade goods. For additional services, Oyen is just a 40-minute drive away, offering a hospital and high school, while Acadia Valley provides K-9 schooling.
